Rules of Cooperation

How do you handle ...	How do you choose to do?	Remedial action meetings, for example <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• book procedures</li> <li>• presence</li> <li>• late arrival</li> <li>• ...</li> </ul>	There will be clashes between our schedules, but we aim to have an even presence between all group members throughout the course.	Late arrival (more than 10 minutes) = fika at the next meeting [one is gluten intolerant and one is allergic to eggs :( ]
division of labour, for example <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• responsibilities</li> <li>• assignment of sub-tasks</li> <li>• deadlines</li> <li>• ...</li> </ul>	We will, for each sprint, divide the work as equal as possible. But we will try to be flexible with the division of labour considering overlapping courses, bachelor's thesis, as well as other commitments.	If a team member is not contributing to their tasks or not doing their responsibilities, we will have to have a meeting to try to straighten things out (maybe with a TA). In the worst case we will have to involve the teacher.
decision-making, for example <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• When applying majority decision, consensus, or decision distribution</li> <li>• dokumentation av beslut</li> <li>• ...</li> </ul>	We aim to agree fully on most decisions through discussion. Should we disagree despite fruitful discussion, a majority vote is applied. We will document decisions to be able to return to. As a suggestion, the Scrum master handles this.	Each person should be able to (if needed) to swallow their pride.

time log and diary <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• how, who, when?</li> <li>• what?</li> <li>• praise and criticism</li> <li>• breach of contract?</li> <li>• ...</li> </ul>	We take turns, each week, to document each meeting.  Summary of time log and diary is completed weekly.  We talk about our stress levels each week.  Feedback is always good for improvements in the group, but we will make sure we keep it at a good tone.
document and file management <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• how, who?</li> <li>• version control?</li> <li>• ...</li> </ul>	We will use github for programming, google drive for report writing and trello for userstories, sprints etc.

Ambition

Our goal is to run and complete this project together and learn as much as possible about the course. Furthermore, we aim to have fun in the group and develop together. The level of ambition is high and the most important thing is the journey together.

How much are you each willing to invest in this course?
