- What do I want to learn or understand better?

We have now decided on what tools to use for the project. Several of them are new to me or that I wish to be able to use better. For example we decided on coding in C# which I have never used before, I will also get to practice more on using git. Unity is another program I have never used and that I will get to learn more about during the project.

- how can I help someone else, or the entire team, to learn something new?

Me and Gabriel will collaborate on two user stories and probably we can learn much from each other during this. If he would need my help with something I will do my best to help him if I know how to do it.

- what is my contribution towards the team's use of Scrum?

Together with the other team members I have been using the scrum board in the creation of user stories, and in order to track the progress of our user stories. I have also tried to keep in mind the structure that we were advised to follow for defining user stories "as an X I want Y since value".

- what is my contribution towards the team's deliveries?

I have created some user stories, I have also together with Gabriel taken on some user stories that we will try our best to finish.
